

Speech at the 10th Anniversary of the Establishment of the IMF Resident Representative Office in China
November 28, 2001

Governor Dai, Minister Lou, Ambassadors, Distinguished Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen.

First of all, on behalf of the IMF, I would like to express our sincere appreciation for your taking time, despite your busy schedule, to come to this reception and to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the establishment of our res rep office in China.

Over the past decade, the Fund's cooperation with China and the international community has developed greatly, and I believe we all have gained a lot from this cooperation. We look forward to further strengthening our cooperative relations in the coming years.

Thank you very much!

Now I would like to introduce Governor Dai to make a speech.
