Parliamentary Workshop at the Annual Meetings of the IMF and World Bank

*Tuesday, September 20, 2011
8:30 a.m. - 5:30 p.m.*

This one-day workshop is designed to afford Members of Parliament the opportunity to discuss first-hand with senior officials from the IMF and World Bank current issues related to the global economy, international finance, and development. The September 20 Parliamentary Workshop includes:

- Sessions with the IMF on: global economic developments and challenges; the impact of the global financial and economic crisis on international financial architecture and governance; the IMF's work in lower-income countries; and challenges to global cooperation.
- Sessions with the World Bank on: the recent findings of the World Development Report 2012: Gender Equality and Development; solicit early input into the World Development Report 2013: Jobs and Rethinking Growth Strategies; and on private sector development and the business environment.

The themes of the Parliamentary Workshop have been defined in consultation with the Parliamentary Network (PNoWB), the World Bank's and IMF's partner in organizing this event. The workshop is open to all Members of Parliament accredited to attend the 2011 IMF and World Bank Annual Meetings. For more information, please contact: legislators@imf.org.
