Term	Definition
Available Resources
GRA
Usable resources	Usable resources consist of: (i) the IMF's holdings of the currencies of members considered by the Executive Board to have a sufficiently strong balance of payments and reserve position for their currencies to be used in the financing of IMF transactions (see Financial Transactions: http://www.imf.org/cgi-shl/create_x.pl?ftp ), (ii) holdings of SDRs, and (iii) unused amounts, if any, under credit lines already activated, such as under the General Arrangements to Borrow and New Arrangements to Borrow (GAB/NAB) and resources available under other Fund borrowing agreements and note purchase agreements, which were concluded in 2009/2010 prior to activation of the NAB. Subsequent to the activation of the NAB on April 1, 2011, amounts available under Fund bilateral borrowing and note purchase agreements of NAB participants include only those needed to cover financing of commitments under arrangements approved by the Fund prior to April 1, 2011 based on a 1:1 bilateral borrowed to quota resources financing ratio for such commitments; undrawn balances under bilateral agreements of other creditors not included in the NAB are available to finance all (both pre- and post-NAB) commitments. Effective April 1, 2013 the Board approved termination of any further drawings under these Fund bilateral borrowing and note purchase agreements, with remaining undrawn balances under pre-NAB commitments being fully financed by quota resources.
Uncommitted usable resources	Usable resources less the full amount of undrawn balances under GRA lending commitments.
Forward commitment capacity	A measure of the resources available for new financial commitments, equal to uncommitted usable resources plus repurchases one-year forward less repayments of borrowing due one-year forward and less the prudential balance. As of April 1, 2011, reflects activation of the expanded NAB for the first activation period through end-September 2011 and subsequent six-month activation periods thereafter.
PRG Trust
	Trust administered by the IMF to conduct concessional lending operations through the Loan, Reserve and Subsidy Accounts.
Total loan resources	Loan Account resources committed by lenders to the PRG Trust.
Cumulative commitments, net	Cumulative commitments to borrowers, net of unused amounts under arrangements which have expired or have been canceled.
Of which: Cumulative disbursements	Disbursements to borrowers under PRGT arrangements.
Uncommitted loan resources	Available PRGT loan resources less commitments made to eligible member countries.
Financial Assistance
GRA
	The General Resources Account (GRA) contains IMF holdings of members' currencies, SDRs, gold, and other assets. These holdings are principally derived from quota subscription payments plus any activated borrowings.
Purchases	GRA resources disbursed to members during the period (outflows).
Repurchases	GRA resources repaid by members during the period (inflows).
Credit outstanding	Total GRA resources disbursed less repurchases.
Outstanding Fund borrowings	Total GRA borrowings less repayments.
PRG Trust
	The PRG Trust (PRGT) provides financial support to low-income member countries via concessional loan facilities.
Disbursements	PRG Trust resources disbursed to members during the period.

Term	Definition

Rates

US$ per SDR	Exchange rate for the SDR in terms of U.S. dollars. The method for valuing the SDR was revised effective January 1, 2011. (See: http://www.imf.org/external/np/tre/sdr/basket.htm )
SDR interest rate	Interest rate calculated as the (combined market) weighted average of the three month market interest rates on U.S. dollar, euro, Japanese yen and pound sterling assets. On October 24, 2014, the Executive Board of the IMF amended the rule for setting the SDR interest rate to be the higher of (i) the above combined market interest rate or (ii) 0.050 percent, the result of which is rounded to three (instead of two) decimal places. (See: http://www.imf.org/external/np/tre/tad/sdr_ir.cfm )
Rate of Charge, adjusted	The basic rate of charge on GRA loans is equal to the SDR interest rate plus 100 basis points to cover the IMF's cost of financing, additions to reserves, and administrative expenses; and further adjusted by a small margin to compensate for income forgone because of charges in arrears.

The SDA contains the profits (sales proceeds minus the value of the gold at the acquisition cost) from sales of the IMF's gold holdings.
Average yield (percent)	Weighted average yield on time deposits, two days' notice accounts, demand deposit accounts, and fixed income securities.
Average maturity (months)	Weighted average of remaining maturity of resources placed in time deposits and the modified duration of fixed income securities.

Forward Commitment Capacity

Term	Definition
Usable Resources
Fund quota resources	The IMF holdings of SDRs and IMF's holdings of the currencies of members considered by the Executive Board to have a sufficiently strong balance of payments and reserve position for their currencies to be used in the financing of IMF transactions (see Financial Transactions: http://www.imf.org/cgi-shl/create_x.pl?ftp )
Fund borrowed resources	Unused amounts, if any, under credit lines already activated, such as under the New Arrangements to Borrow (NAB) and resources under other (pre-NAB) Fund borrowing/note purchase agreements (which ceased to remain available effective April 1, 2013).
Repurchases one-year forward	Repayments by member countries during the coming one-year period. These repurchases add to the supply of the IMF's usable resources.
Repayments of borrowings one-year forward	Repayment obligations on Fund borrowing and note placements in the coming one-year period, including drawings and notes reaching final maturity in the next 12 months plus any encashment requests for early repayment to be met over that same period.
Prudential balance	Amount set aside to safeguard the liquidity of members' claims and take account of the potential erosion of the IMF's resource base. The prudential balance is set at 20 percent of the quotas of members participating in the financing of IMF transactions (Financial Transactions Plan) and any amounts made available under active bilateral borrowing and note purchase agreements with non-NAB participants, which were terminated on April 1,

Forward Commitment Capacity

Term	Definition
	2013. The prudential balance currently does not cover the encashment needs of NAB participants' outstanding claims under bilateral borrowing agreements that are folded into the NAB. Nor does it extend to the claims of participants in the expanded NAB; as such resources are to be provided by setting aside a portion of the total credit arrangements under the NAB. The prudential ratio of 20 percent as decided by the IMF's Executive Board reflects historical experience and judgments on the indicative level of uncommitted usable resources that the IMF would normally not use to make financial commitments. The prudential balance does not represent a rigid minimum and IMF resources could, on a strictly temporary basis, fall below this level.

Current Financial Arrangements (GRA, PRGT)

Term	Definition
Arrangements	IMF credit is made available under a variety of borrowing arrangements with different disbursement schedules and maturities depending on the balance of payment needs of the member.
GRA
Stand-By Arrangements	The most common type of credit arrangement designed to provide short-term financial assistance. Purchases under Stand-By Arrangements are repayable in 8 quarterly installments 3¼ - 5 years after disbursement.
Extended Arrangements	Extended Arrangements provide credit for a longer period since these arrangements usually require fundamental reforms which may need more time to put in place and take effect. Drawings under extended arrangements are repayable in 12 semiannual installments 4½ - 10 years after disbursement.
Flexible Credit Line	The Flexible Credit Line (FCL) has been established to allow members with very strong track records to access IMF resources based on pre-set qualification criteria to deal with all types of balance of payments problems. The FCL could be used both on a precautionary (crisis prevention) and nonprecautionary (crisis resolution) basis. Purchases under FCL arrangements are repayable in 8 quarterly installments 3¼ - 5 years after disbursement.
Precautionary and Liquidity Line	The Precautionary and Liquidity Line (PLL), which replaces the Precautionary Credit Line (PCL), has been established to meet actual or potential balance of payments needs of members with sound economic fundamentals and institutional policy frameworks but with some remaining vulnerabilities that preclude them from using the FCL. Purchases under PLL arrangements are repayable in 8 quarterly installments 3¼ - 5 years after disbursement.
PRG Trust
ECF Arrangements	Concessional arrangements providing credit in support of a three-year macroeconomic and structural adjustment program to eligible low-income members facing protracted balance of payment issues (formerly known as PRGF). The loans are repayable in 10 equal semiannual installments 5½ - 10 years after disbursement.
SCF Arrangements	Concessional arrangements ranging from one to two years to provide financial assistance to low-income countries that are experiencing short-term but not protracted balance of payments needs. The loans are repayable in 9 equal semiannual installments 4 - 8 years after disbursement.
	Interest on all PRGT loans (including outright drawings under the RCF) has been waived through end-December 2016.
Arrangement Details	IMF financial arrangements are reviewed regularly to assess progress in policy reforms. The disbursement of funds under an arrangement is linked to the achievement of certain financial targets.

Under the enhanced HIPC Initiative, the timing of the completion point is linked to the implementation of pre-agreed key structural reforms (i.e., floating completion point).
Amount Committed	Amount of HIPC assistance determined, in consultation with the World Bank, at the decision point to be made available by the IMF.
Amount Disbursed	Resources disbursed to the member to help meet debt service payments to the IMF. Disbursements are normally dependent on receipt of sufficient financing assurances from other creditors.
