Rates

US$ per SDR

Exchange rate for the SDR in terms of U.S. dollars. The latest currency composition and weights for the SDR are available at https://www.imf.org/external/np/fin/data/rms\_sdrv.aspx

SDR interest rate

Interest rate calculated as the (combined market) weighted average of the three month market interest rates on Chinese Renminbi, euro, Japanese yen, pound sterling, and U.S. dollar assets. On October 24, 2014, the Executive Board of the IMF amended the rule for setting the SDR interest rate to be the higher of (i) the above combined market interest rate or (ii) 0.050 percent, the result of which is rounded to three (instead of two) decimal places. (See: https://www.imf.org/external/np/fin/data/sdr\_ir.aspx)

Rate of Charge, adjusted

The basic rate of charge on GRA loans is equal to the SDR interest rate plus 60 basis points to cover the IMF's cost of financing, additions to reserves, and administrative expenses; and further adjusted by a small margin to compensate for income forgone because of charges in arrears.

Rate of remuneration, adjusted

Interest rate paid to members that provide resources to the IMF. Adjusted by a small margin to allow for special additions to reserves and to compensate for income forgone because of charges in arrears.

Investments

Amount

PRG and PRG-HIPC Trust resources invested in short--term deposits and medium-term instruments with the Bank for International Settlements (BIS) and bond portfolios managed by external investment managers. Data from the first quarter of 2000 onward also include sight deposits. The SDA contains the profits (sales proceeds minus the value of the gold at the acquisition cost) from sales of the IMF's gold holdings.

Average yield (percent)

Weighted average yield on time deposits, two days' notice accounts, demand deposit accounts, and fixed income securities.

Average maturity (months)

Weighted average of remaining maturity of resources placed in time deposits and the modified duration of fixed income securities.

Forward Commitment Capacity

Term	Definition
Usable Resources
Fund quota resources	The IMF holdings of SDRs and IMF's holdings of the currencies of members considered by the Executive Board to have a sufficiently strong balance of payments and reserve position for their currencies to be used in the financing of IMF transactions (see Financial Transactions: http://www.imf.org/cgi-shl/create_x.pl?ftp )
Fund borrowed resources	Unused amounts, if any, under credit lines, such as under the New Arrangements to Borrow for financing drawings under Fund commitments approved during prior NAB activation periods.
Repurchases one-year forward	Repayments by member countries during the coming one-year period. These repurchases add to the supply of the IMF's usable resources.
Repayments of borrowings one-year forward	Repayment obligations on Fund borrowing and note placements in the coming one-year period, including drawings and notes reaching final maturity in the next 12 months plus any encashment requests for early repayment to be met over that same period.
Prudential balance	Amount set aside to safeguard the liquidity of members' claims and take account of the potential erosion of the IMF's resource base. The prudential balance is set at 20 percent of the quotas of members participating in the financing of IMF transactions (Financial Transactions Plan) and any amounts made available under active bilateral borrowing and note purchase agreements with non-NAB participants, which were terminated on April 1, 2013. The prudential balance currently does not cover the encashment needs of NAB participants' outstanding claims under bilateral borrowing agreements that are folded into the NAB. Nor does it extend to the claims of participants in the expanded NAB; as such resources are to be provided by setting aside a portion of the total credit arrangements under the NAB. The prudential ratio of 20 percent as decided by the IMF's Executive Board reflects historical experience and judgments on the indicative level of uncommitted usable resources that the IMF would normally not use to make financial commitments. The prudential balance does not represent a rigid minimum and IMF resources could, on a strictly temporary basis, fall below this level.

Current Financial Arrangements (GRA, PRGT, RST)

Term	Definition
Arrangements	IMF credit is made available under a variety of borrowing arrangements with different disbursement schedules and maturities depending on the balance of payment needs of the member.
GRA
Stand-By Arrangements	The most common type of credit arrangement designed to provide short-term financial assistance. Purchases under Stand-By Arrangements are repayable in 8 quarterly installments 3¼ - 5 years after disbursement.
Extended Arrangements	Extended Arrangements provide credit for a longer period since these arrangements usually require fundamental reforms which may need more time to put in place and take effect. Drawings under extended arrangements are repayable in 12 semiannual installments 4½ - 10 years after disbursement.
Flexible Credit Line	The Flexible Credit Line (FCL) has been established to allow members with very strong track records to access IMF resources based on pre-set qualification criteria to deal with all types of balance of payments problems. The FCL could be used both on a precautionary (crisis prevention) and non-precautionary (crisis resolution) basis. Purchases under FCL arrangements are repayable in 8 quarterly installments 3¼ - 5 years after disbursement.
Precautionary and Liquidity Line	The Precautionary and Liquidity Line (PLL), which replaces the Precautionary Credit Line (PCL), has been established to meet actual or potential balance of payments needs of members with sound economic fundamentals and institutional policy frameworks but with some remaining vulnerabilities that preclude them from using the FCL. Purchases under PLL arrangements are repayable in 8 quarterly installments 3¼ - 5 years after disbursement.
PRG Trust
ECF Arrangements	Concessional arrangements providing credit in support of a three-year macroeconomic and structural adjustment program to eligible low-income members facing protracted balance of payment issues (formerly known as PRGF). The loans are repayable in 10 equal semiannual installments 5½ - 10 years after disbursement.
SCF Arrangements	Concessional arrangements ranging from one to two years to provide financial assistance to low-income countries that are experiencing short-term but not protracted balance of payments needs. The loans are repayable in 9 equal semiannual installments 4 - 8 years after disbursement.
	Interest on all PRGT loans (including outright drawings under the RCF) has been waived through end-December 2018.
RS Trust
Resilience and Sustainability Facility Arrangement	The RSF is designed to help members tackle longer-term challenges like climate change and pandemic preparedness. The arrangement should be accompanied by an upper credit tranche program under the GRA and/or PRGT. Loans under the RSF are repayable in 20 equal semiannual installments 10½ – 20 years after disbursement.
