Despite relatively large (and widening) output gaps, Germany and Italy are set to experience relatively large fiscal contractions in 2003, and Germany will also face relatively high real interest rates.