In part because of the inflexibility of their exchange rate regime, terms of trade shocks over the 1970–2003 period had the largest impact on output volatility in CFA franc zone countries.