Figure 4.2. Methodology Example (Korea 1989)
(Year of surplus reversal at $t = 0$; years on x-axis)

A surplus reversal is a sustained and significant decline (2 percentage points of GDP or more) in the current account balance from a period of large and persistent surpluses.

Source: IMF staff calculations.